

Welcome to Mount Hope Farm

You are invited to share in the beauty of this 127 acre estate. As you walk the grounds, you will see the following buildings:

THE GOVERNOR BRADFORD HOUSE

Built by Isaac Royall in 1745 and added to in 1840, 1890, and 1955, this house is a two and one-half story Colonial with original staircase, paneling and four fireplaced bedrooms. The House currently serves as a four room B&B.

THE BARN

This 19th century structure affords 17 foot ceilings and a panoramic view of Mount Hope and Narragansett Bay from the cupola. The Barn currently serves as an event facility for Mount Hope Farm.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Carpenters at the Herreshoff Manufacturing Company built the Playhouse in the 1930s. The structure imitates the roof and details of the main house.

COVE CABIN

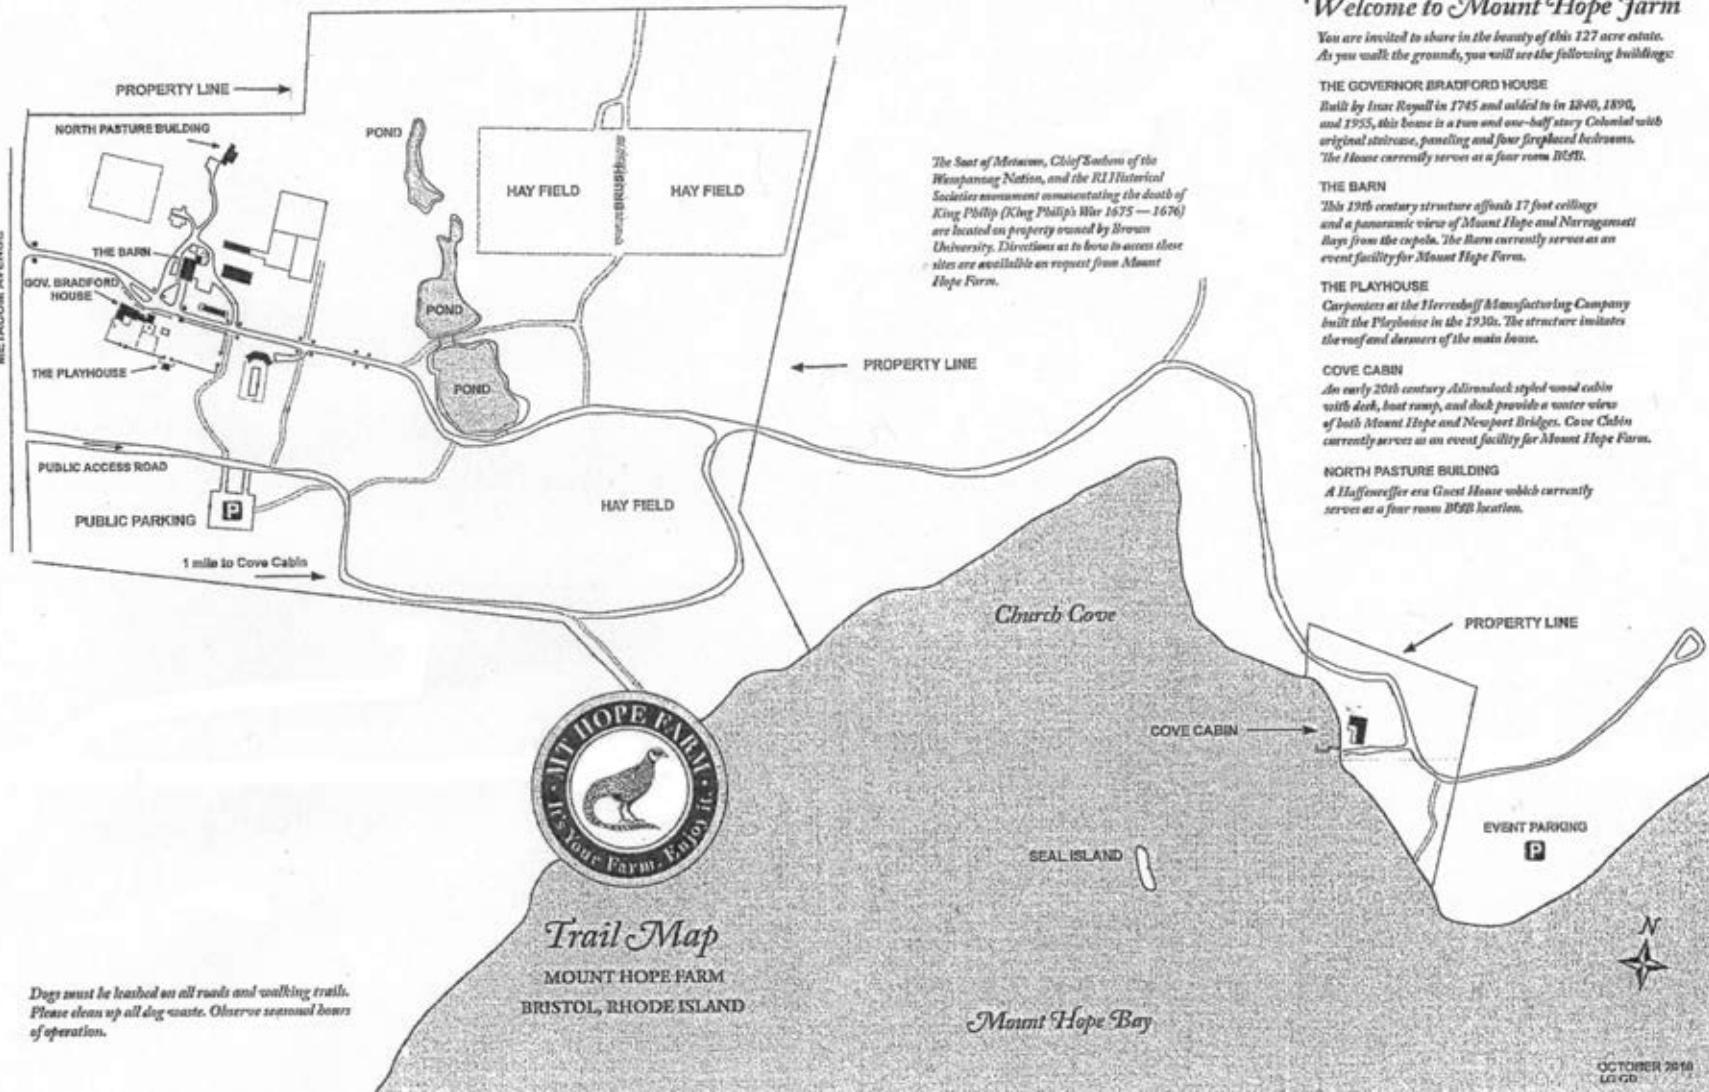

An early 20th century Adirondack styled wood cabin with deck, boat ramp, and dock provide a water view of both Mount Hope and Newport Bridges. Cove Cabin currently serves as an event facility for Mount Hope Farm.

NORTH PASTURE BUILDING

A Haffenreffer era Guest House which currently serves as a four room B&B location.

The Seat of Metacomb, Chief Sachem of the Wampanoag Nation, and the RLI Historical Societies monument commemorating the death of King Philip (King Philip's War 1675 — 1676) are located on property owned by Brown University. Directions as to how to access these sites are available on request from Mount Hope Farm.
